Fingertips training for health, care and voluntary sector staff working in north east London

These free, bespoke NEL sessions are aimed at those working in health and care within north east London looking to build their confidence using the Fingertips public health profiles.

Fingertips is a large publicly available and highly accessible data collection about health in NEL, our boroughs and our GP practices, covering a wide range of health topics and can support work to identify health inequalities locally.

The training will be delivered by the London Knowledge and Intelligence Service over three sessions on MS Teams covering:

12 September 2024 12.00-12.45	How to find fingertips profiles, navigate indicators and geographies Register here
19 September 2024 12.00-12.45	How to look at benchmarking, tartan rugs, trends, maps and inequalities Register here
26 September 2024 12.00-12.45	How to create bespoke dashboards and extract and analyse data Register here
