Capacity is limited to 90 participants, with efforts to include representation from across the system

Neighbourhood MDTs embed paediatric expertise into primary care, enabling quicker access to specialist advice and support for CYP who might otherwise face long waits for outpatient appointments. These models are already active in many regions and have shown to:

- Reduce outpatient referrals and waiting times
- Lower unnecessary ED attendances
- Improve staff and patient satisfaction

What to Expect at the London Roadshow:

- National policy context: 10-Year Health Plan, Family Hub interface
- London scene setting: Simulation learning and BCYP Improvement Collaborative
- Case studies: Trinity MDT (NEL London) and Early Years Integrated Care (NW London)
- Breakout sessions on asthma care, medical complexity in early years, and health support in schools
- Networking lunch with “show and tell” from other London and national models
- Collaborative feedback: Identifying gaps and opportunities for partnership working

This is a fantastic opportunity to hear from colleagues who have mobilised these models, learn from their experiences, and connect with others interested in improving CYP care across London.
